Workplace Health and Safety Policy

Transplumb Events — Policy Statement

At Transplumb Events, nothing is more important than everyone going home safe and well. Our work on event sites involves gas, mobile plant, working at height, excavation and busy shared spaces, and we manage those risks with care and planning.

The Directors and Senior Management of Transplumb Events are committed to:

- Providing safe and healthy working conditions to prevent work-related injury and ill health — for our employees, contractors, clients, visitors and the public.
- Eliminating hazards and reducing risks using the hierarchy of controls, including psychosocial hazards.
- Meeting all applicable work health and safety laws and other requirements in every state we work in.
- Consulting with our workers and their health and safety representative, and encouraging everyone to take part in improving safety.
- Providing the training, supervision, information and equipment people need to work safely.
- Setting health and safety objectives and targets and reviewing our performance against them.
- Reporting and investigating incidents and near misses, and learning from them.
- Continually improving our Workplace Health and Safety Management System, maintained in accordance with ISO 45001.

Everyone's responsibility

Everyone who works with us is expected to follow safe work procedures, look out for themselves and others, treat people with respect, and report hazards, incidents and unsafe conditions straight away. Anyone can stop work they believe is unsafe.

This policy is communicated to everyone who works with us, is available to our clients and other interested parties, and is reviewed at least annually to make sure it remains right for our business.

Matthew Feehan
Director, Transplumb Events

Andrew Brew
Director, Transplumb Events

October 2026